

Charities and Amazing People

These are some of the people we have interviewed, support, and know. If You know any awesome people, and or organizations that are Actively Doing and Living the Pay it Forward Lifestyle, Please contact us at: media@carlyalyssathorne.com

CEO and Founder of The Blue Fish and Taste of Blue, Steve Sims wanted to utilize his resources and create a charitable organization with purpose and heart. 100% of your auction proceeds directly benefits a worthy cause. Go explore his sites and find out more about Steve Sims.

<http://tasteofblue.com/>

<http://thebluefish.com/>

<https://www.facebook.com/karmatube>

<http://www.servicespace.org/>

Charley Johnson is Paying it Forward from Utah. He Created the Pay it Forward Experience Foundation. The PIF Blog has the global map of Pay it Forward Acts around the world and more. <http://www.pifexperience.org>

Steph and Allie Centorino are Paying it Forward from Connecticut. They created Say it Forward these Awesome little cards with sayings on them, you hand them out to others and then they register their card on their website and they get tracked.

<http://www.sayitforward.me>

Toan Lam, is Paying it Forward from San Francisco, he created Go Inspire Go (GIG). GIG is a multimedia platform that "Uses social networking to inspire Social Change"

<http://www.goinspirego.com/>

Ivan Martinetti is Paying it Forward from CA, he created BlueTurtle, a social action platform that develops as well as aggregates projects, events and activities all around the world at all levels. BlueTurtle empowers people to make a difference to save our planet. They also have a turtle that you can buy, pass on and register and track it globally. <http://www.blueturtle.com/>

Marcus Mitchell is Paying it Forward from Vegas. He is an amazing man who continues to Pay it Forward in various ways, join him to see how you can participate. He had the honor and pleasure of interviewing him for our documentary. <http://www.guynsincity.com/pif.htm>

Food Forward Paying it Forward from Los Angeles, CA. Food Forward is a volunteer powered grassroots group of Angelenos who care about reconnecting to our food system and making change around urban hunger. Volunteers pick fruits and vegetables, from Land that they been given access, some volunteers are even doing canning of the food. Food Forward makes sure the food gets to the people that need it. <http://foodforward.org/>

Kathy Bacon is Paying it Forward from Denver, Colorado. Tune in to Pay It Forward Radio on: <http://www.mileHlradio.com/> on Wednesdays at 5 PM MST.

Kathy Bacon Facebook Page

Josephine Geraci Paying it Forward from Huntington, New York. Tune in with Paying it Forward Radio on Wednesdays at 10 AM Eastern Standard Time. <http://toginet.com/shows/payingitforward>

Josephine Geraci Facebook Page

SmileTV Group - Sandy Pedeflous - Paying it Forward from Oak Park, CA. Check out their Positive TV, designed to make you smile. <http://www.smiletvgroup.com>

Bob Burg, Kathy Zader, Dixie Gillaspie and the all the Go-Giver Coaches are Paying it Forward from Florida, and all over the World. <http://gogivercoach.com/>

Hug Train - Arie Moyal from Canada giving Hugs across the country to create awareness of issues surrounding Mental health especially during the holiday season. Join him. <http://hugtrain.org/>

Songs for Kids Foundation <http://www.songsforkidsfoundation.org>

NEGU- Never Ever Give Up - The Jessie Rees Foundation -Paying it Forward, Sending Joy Jars to the many children affected by cancer. The idea of the Joy Jars was developed by Jessie Rees, a 12-year-old girl from Rancho Santa Margarita who was diagnosed with brain cancer. During her battle, she and her parents founded the NEGU Foundation, which stands for Never Ever Give Up. That will forever be the foundation's motto, Erik Rees, Jessie's father said. Jessie died in January after a 10-month battle with cancer. The foundation's name was officially changed on April 8, which would have been Jessie's 13th birthday.

Go to: <http://www.negu.org> And see how You could help spread NEGU through either donating, volunteering and more...