Today's Featured Speaker I would like to share and talk about is Bob Burg. Just to be clear, I am not an affiliate nor do I get paid in any shape or form from Burg Communications. ## Communication: Sally Hogshead

I have personally read all of the above speakers books, have heard them all speak and have had the honor of speaking with them personally.

What I like about Bob Burg:

-He truly is authentic, he writes in his blogs about issues he himself may be going thru and then turns it into a learning business lesson for all.

-When he speaks on stage he is a blend of Serious, Business, Humor, Authenticity and most importantly FUN witty banter... In my opinion we learn the most when we are playing and having fun and then we have the choice to learn, from our experiences and what we have heard or learned from others.

-He doesn't have assistants answering his Twitter or Facebook, he truly cares and engages with his customers and friends and is HONEST if he can't, he will tweet or put on his wall, heading to speak for the day or weekend, see you in a few days etc...

-He treats his staff, associates, Go-Giver Coaches and friends with the same language, he does not wear multiple masks, one for staff, associates, stage and another for friends. What you see on stage of Bob is what you get in person.

-I also see how Bob is constantly Learning, Playing and Growing himself and I also see how Bob is constantly a Walking Ambassador for his customers, friends, associates that are doing good things out there in this world.

-And all of this is out there for you to see on his blog:
